A member voiced that there is a need for a change in state rules. She recently had surgery and went two days post-surgery without in-home care because she could not get approved for more time until after surgery. Her case worker had to do the paperwork either the day of the member's surgery or after the member's surgery. This member is a disabled senior who lives alone and requires in-home care.

Everyone was reminded to put shiny items on kids' costumes for safety this Halloween and to try trick or treating at the mall or at trunk and treat.

The Teal Pumpkin Movement was created for children with food allergies. Pumpkins painted teal outside of a home meant that the home had allergen free treats to offer the kids.

There was a reoccurring lice outbreak at the Boys & Girls Club's Summer Street location. Everyone was reminded that in the case of a lice outbreak it is necessary to shampoo everyone in the household and wash everyone's bedding and laundry.

There was an Early Prenatal Workgroup meeting on Monday, October 30th at the Health Department.

Community Health Assessment Booklets were printed and will be handed out.

Polk County Public Health has been vaccinating people for the flu.

Early Learning Hub has been working with preschools to do hearing and vision screenings for the kids.

Early Learning Hub released a request for applications so that people can apply for grant money if they have housing, transportation, or health needs. There needs to be a child age 0-6 in the household.

There was a blood drive going on with the red cross. There is one on October 27th at the church on Brush College Drive.

There is a patient advisory panel at the West Salem Clinic if anyone is interested in joining. It is another opportunity to have input on services.

The show Survivor has a parole officer competing this season and the parole officer is on the Healer team which is a positive portrayal of this profession in the media, and parole officers do work to help heal people.

Ms. McDowell from Project Able offered to give everyone tours around their location. She also provided calendars, flyers, brochures, and business cards. Project Able held a clothing exchange directly after the meeting. The clothing exchanges are held quarterly if anyone is interested in participating at one in the future. Project Able also has a newly renovated location in McMinnville. They had an open house at the McMinnville location on Monday, October 30th.
